Contracts have been let for constructing a gymnasium and post exchange at Ft. Wingate, N. M., as follows: Construction, Otto P. Kroeger, El Paso, Texas, $34,700. Plumbing, Vogt & Lewis, Las Vegas, N. M., $1,995. Heating, Whitney Co., Albuquerque, N. M., $158.

Adjutant General R. A. Ford has decided to reinstate the signal corps at Roswell, in addition to mustering a company of infantry. Lieut. Charles Whitman, a former Las Vegas young man, will be again in command of the signal corps, and Captain M. S. Murray will command the infantry company.

From 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon until 5 o'clock funeral corteges moved through the streets of Trinidad, the funerals of the eight Austrians killed in Tuesday's mine disaster at Teller's being held. The body of Albert Noah, the only American killed, was sent to his home in Stillwater, Okla. No report has been made regarding the cause of the disaster pending the arrival of State Mine Inspector J. D. Jones.

Police Officer Guivera at Albuquerque yesterday morning arrested a man on the streets who was considerably under the influence of liquor and had a large gun sticking out of his pocket. The gun was a small sized cannon, 15 inches long and loaded. When taken before Judge Craig the man gave his name as E. R. Ferguson, and said that he was a stranger in the Duke city. He was fined $50 on the charge of carrying concealed weapons.

William Hudson, aged 65, personal aide on the staff of General U. S. Grant, of whom he was a nephew, in the civil war, is confined to the San Rafael hospital at Trinidad, Colo., with the entire lower portion of his body paralyzed. For 27 years Hudson has lived a hermit's life on a lonely spot in Colorado canyon, five miles from Trinidad. With him has lived a sister, Virginia Hudson, now nearly 70 years old. Hudson will probably be sent to the Soldiers' home at Monte Vista.

When the territorial conservation commission met for organization at Santa Fe yesterday in the office of Governor Curry at the capitol, Hon. Solomon Luna of Los Lunas, and Attorney W. A. Fleming Jones of Las Cruces, were present, while Attorney A. A. Jones of Las Vegas, the third member, was absent. Hon. Solomon Luna was elected president; A. A. Jones vice president; and W. A. Fleming Jones secretary and treasurer. The commission will meet again to outline its program of work during the territorial fair at Albuquerque in October.

A curious discovery has been made at Santa Fe. Most of the territorial officials and members of territorial boards, who were reappointed by Governor Curry failed to qualify, being under the impression that having qualified upon their original appointment it was not necessary to go through the formality again. However, this is necessary as far as taking the oath and furnishing a new bond is concerned, and there is a scramble of officials and board members to comply with the law as preliminary to drawing pay or acting in their official capacity.

Judge Ira A. Abbott in the district court at Albuquerque late yesterday afternoon issued a temporary restraining order, prohibiting the Water Supply company from turning aqueduct water into the city mains and requiring a bond of $5,000 of F. F. Trotter, the complainant. Mr. Trotter made application to the court for an injunction to prevent aqueduct water being turned into the city supply and during the hearing the Water Supply company's attorney requested that he be ordered to furnish an ample bond. It is understood that water from the aqueduct has not been used in the city mains since the application for an injunction was made, but the Duke city authorities are keeping watchmen at the aqueduct. The Water Supply company was given 20 days in which to file answer to the suit of Mr. Trotter for a permanent injunction.

Help for Those Who Have Stomach Trouble.

After doctoring for about twelve years for a bad stomach trouble, and spending nearly five hundred dollars for medicine and doctors' fees, I purchased my wife one box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, which did her so much good that she continued to use them and they have done her more good than all of the medicine I bought before.—Samuel Boyer, Polson, Iowa. This medicine is for sale by all dealers. Samples free.

They were at dinner and the dainties were on the table.
"Will you take pie or pudding?" asked papa of Tommy.
"Pie!" said Tommy promptly.

His father sighed as he recalled the many lessons on manners he had given the boys.
"Pie, what?" he queried, kindly.
But Tommy's eyes were glued on the pastry.

"Pie, what?" was asked, sharply, this time.
"Pie first!" answered Tommy, triumphantly.—Tit-Bits.

It was raining outside, and little interrogative Irma was in one of her worst, or at least most trying, moods. Father, busily writing at his desk, had already reproved her several times for bothering him with useless questions.

"I say, pa, what—"
"Ask your mother!"
"Honest, pa, this isn't a silly one this time."

"All right, this once. What is it?"
"Well, if the end of the world was to come and the earth was destroyed while a man was up in an airship, where would he land when he came down?"—Everybody's Magazine.

Drivers who fail to make their horses vicious and fractious, although they do their best, may be interested in the following directions, compiled after observation of some of the more successfully brutal drivers:

First—Never feed your horses properly. This will prove expensive through impairing the general health and ability of the animals.

Second—Never mind whether the horses are thirsty or not, so long as your own gizzard is moist.

Third—Always overload your wagon.

Fourth—Never show any consideration for your team on account of the weather.

Fifth—When your horses get frightened, never show them any kindness.

Yell.—Kansas City Times.
